MACTAGGART & MICKEL TAKES PRIDE IN SECURING NHBC HAT TRICK

RESPECTED SCOTTISH HOME-BUILDER MACTAGGART & MICKEL HAS SCORED A HAT TRICK AT THIS YEAR'S NHBC ROLE OF HONOUR, AS THREE OF THE COMPANY'S SITE MANAGERS HAVE SCOOPED A 'PRIDE IN THE JOB' QUALITY AWARD.

The legendary Paddy Malone, Senior Site Manager at Mactaggart & Mickel's stunning Ailsa View development in Doonfoot, Ayr, secured his seventh NHBC 'Pride in the Job' Quality Award on behalf of a company he has worked at for almost 30 years.

A four times winner of the NHBC Regional Award and two times winner of the UK Supreme Award, Paddy, from Greenan in Ayrshire, is a celebrated figure among his work colleagues and industry peers.

"Once again I am delighted to win this award on behalf of Mactaggart & Mickel and the team at Ailsa View. The key to achieving this recognition is never to become complacent about the task in hand.

"Each site team I have worked with remains true to our best practice procedures and it is this that significantly contributes to our award winning success year after year," said Paddy Malone, Senior Site Manager.

Ailsa View will provide 49 homes on completion including detached villas and bungalows. These beautifully planned properties sit in perfect harmony with the coastal surroundings of South Ayrshire.

For Site Manager Kenny Johnston, this is his fifth NHBC 'Pride in the Job' Quality Award. Kenny, from Liberton, has worked at Mactaggart & Mickel for 17 years and this is the second year in succession he has achieved an NHBC award for the company's exclusive development – Hillpark in Edinburgh.

Based at the foot of Corstorphine Hill and Nature Reserve in the prestigious Blackhall area of the capital, Hillpark provides an outstanding mix of luxury detached villas and apartments.

Mactaggart & Mickel Site Manager Les Duncan from West Kilbride is also no stranger to winning NHBC awards. His latest is the second time in his eight years of working at Mactaggart & Mickel that he has achieved a 'Pride in the Job' Quality Award and again, this was for the company's Noddsdale Meadow development in Largs.

Noddsdale Meadow is located within one of the most sought after towns on Ayrshire's coastline. The development will provide 118 new homes on completion including semi detached properties, detached villas and bungalows.

"On behalf of the company I would like to express to Paddy, Kenny and Les our gratitude. We are very proud of each of them and their respective site teams in achieving these awards.

"This latest accomplishment continues to underline 2005 as a definitive year for Mactaggart & Mickel. The NHBC awards not only follow on from our recent triumphs, which include a Silver Award at the Consort Royal Graphic Design and Print Awards and a Homes for Scotland Award for Customer Service, but also underline that in the year that we celebrate our 80th anniversary, we continue to retain our position as one of Scotland's leading homebuilders, offering our hand-crafted homes across central Scotland and Ayrshire," said Derek Mickel, Chairman, Mactaggart & Mickel.
